UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Case of Col. W. H. M'Cardle---Arguments of Judge Black and Senator Trumbull.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—In the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of McCardle, this morning, after the transaction of some other business, Mr. Black, the counsel of McCardle, called the attention of the Court to his motion in this case to fix an early day for the argument. He said that Senator Trumbull, who had some objections, had been waiting to make them, and he (Mr. Black) desired to hear them. Mr. Trumbull said he knew no reason why the cause should be advanced, and an early day assigned for the hearing of it. The relator had been brought before a military commission for trial; but the habeas corpus had suspended the proceeding, and he was now out on bail. No harm could come to him or any one by letting the cause stand without a decision for a year or two. Mr. Trumbull took up the written reasons filed with the motion and answered them severally. He said this was not, properly speaking, a criminal case; it was a habeas corpus. The other two reasons, instead of being grounds to sustain the motion, were strong against it. They allege that the United States are interested in the question, and that it concerns the rights and liberties of every American citizen. This shows that it is a political case, and the Court should not voluntarily take upon itself responsibilities of that kind. Mr. Trumbull did not expect or desire the Court to shrink from its duty, but he believed that it should not go aside from its regular course to seek occasions for deciding questions like this.

Judge Black replied. He denied that this was a political case. It was purely judicial. "It has come," said he, "in the form of a legal appeal from the Circuit Court for the District of Mississippi, and it comes here with technical regularity. I represent nobody but my client, and ask for the vindication of no rights except his." The Attorney-General makes no opposition. If Mr. Trumbull comes in to take up the case for a political party, I submit that he is out of his proper place, for the Senator should know that in the courts of the country we practice law, not politics. A glance at the record will show you that the relator was accused of a criminal offense, arrested without any judicial warrant, held for a long time in close custody, and then brought before what they may call a Military Commission, organized to couvict him. He could not forsee his doom, for if they could try him they could hang him. His friends got a writ of habeas corpus. He was brought before the Circuit Court, and was remanded, but the Judge, manifestly in doubt, facilitated the appeal in a way which showed his own desire to have it decided by the court of last resort. Yet you are told that this is not a criminal case.

Mr. Trumbull—I did not say so; I said the habeas corpus was not a criminal proceeding.

Mr. Black—Certainly it is not, but the nature of the case does not depend on the form of the writ, neither is a writ of error a criminal proceeding, but a writ of error like habeas corpus may bring a criminal cause into this Court. Judge Black continued, we ask that you hear the case now. It is not at the foot of the list. By the statute law of the land, by the immemorial custom of the Court, and by your own written rules made so lately as last year, it stands at the head of the docket, and claims your immediate attention. As a criminal case, the act of Congress says that you shall hear it in preference to others that are pending, but the preference always was conceded to such cases. No criminal cause was ever allowed to be staved off or put by on the ground that civil causes, whether older or later, should be heard first. Such had been the universal practice of this Court for more than three-quarters of a century. It is the practice everywhere else. In all the Courts. State and Federal, the rule is to give criminal cases the preference. Your administration of criminal justice cannot afford to wait. If the accused party is guilty, and the proceeding against him is legal, the highest interests of society require that he should be punished without delay. If he is lawlessly prosecuted by a tribunal that has no jurisdiction, or if he is suffering from the false judgment of a Court which has authority to try him, he must be immediately relieved. Relief postponed is not relief at all. In no case can any court permit the sword of public vengeance to be doubtfully suspended over the head of a citizen for an indefinite time. But there is another reason which would induce you to take this case up immediately even if it were at the foot of the docket. In the exercise of your great power, you do not merely decide cases, you lay down rules for the conduct of others who may find themselves in like condition. You never give a naked judgment. You accompany it with the reasons, so that all men may know how far they are within the principles you sanction. You are the great teachers of the people in regard to those things which concern their temporal salvation, and in proportion as you perform that duty, well or ill, in that proportion are you fit or unfit for the high places which you fill. Here is a subject on which your lessons are most especially needed. This is not the only Military Commission that has been set up. In all that large region of country from the Potomac to the Gulf of Mexico Military Commissions have become so much the fashion that they have almost entirely superseded courts and juries. They inflict all manner of punishments. Three men are now held by them under sentence of death, and hundreds are languishing under their orders in various kinds of imprisonment. Every officer who is or may be engaged in carrying out these proceedings is deeply interested in knowing, as soon as possible, how the law regards him. From the President and the General of the army down to the lowest Jack Ketch in their service, it is to the last degree important that they should know when they hang a man whether their act is justifiable homicide or felonious murder. If they are engaged in the performance of a lawful duty it will surely be an infinite relief to be assured of it by a decision of this Court. The people ought to know it, too, so that they may learn to submit quietly to evils which cannot be cured. Then if they do not enjoy the blessings of liberty they will at least have the repose of despotism, which is perhaps the next best thing. But if it should be finally held that these commissions are all wrong and void, it is horrid cruelty not to say so at once. Would my learned brother, for any mere political consideration, encourage public officers to rush on in headlong ignorance at the risk of being branded as criminals in the future. If you decide hereafter that their acts are no protection to them against the charges of kidnapping, robbery, and murder, how will they feel toward those who prevented a decision in time to save them from those crimes? If the blood be suffered to accumulate upon ther heads for two or three years more, there will not be rain enough in the sweet heavens to wash them white again. This question, no doubt seems a very clear one to Mr. Trumbull, and he can doubtless make it as clear to the Court as it is to him. We suppose it at least possible that he may be mistaken. We know that the Constitution makes a court and jury the exclusive judges of guilt or innocence in every criminal case, and we know, also that the Constitution was in full force about one year ago, for this court then said so in very plain and unmistakable language. But Mr. Trumbull and other jurists suppose themselves to have discovered an act of Congress passed since the decision referred to by which the Constitution is repealed, or, at least, they have learned that the American people have in some way lost the right of trial by jury. Now the presumption is a strong one to be seen that Mr. Trumbull is right and I am wrong. If he comes with his act of Congress, and I oppose him with the Constitution, and the principles of public liberty, the odds will be against me. Still, he cannot say that the point is absolutely free from doubt, when he remembers that the Attorney General, who stands officially at the head of the profession, and deserves to stand there, is against him toto cœlo.—The question cannot be clear in his favor, when the conviction of a lawyer like Mr. Stanbery is clear the other way. If it be doubtful, and that is all I ask you now to concede, it is inhuman to leave it unsettled when the case is before you in which all doubts can be resolved. I repeat that this is a judicial question merely. If by the suggestion that it is connected with politics, it is meant to say that you may be assailed and slandered for your decision by partizans, I admit it freely. That may be true in this case as it has been in many others, I cannot promise you exemption from a fate which the best men in the world have suffered when they performed their public duties honestly. That is the rough brake that virtue must go through. But if the statute laws, the rules and constant practice of this Court are not to be violated, the cause before you will be heard without more delay than what may be necessary for its proper preparation.

Judge Sharkey spoke briefly on the same side, enforcing what had been said by his colleague, and stating the condition of things in Mississippi as an additional reason for an early decision.

Mr. Hughes thought there was no reason in the circumstances of the case itself for taking it up soon, and the Court ought not to consider the extraneous facts which had been mentioned. The speech of Judge Black and th profound sensation manifested were in themselves enough to show that the subject was one which could not be handled without producing excitement. At all events, he hoped that full time would be allowed for counsel to consider their argument. It ought not to be hurried.

In the course of the debate, Mr. Attorney General Stanbery defined his position. He said that a case had been laid before the President in which a military comission had sentenced a person to death. The question had been propounded to him by the President whether the condemnation and sentence were legal. He had, in accordance with his convictions, answered that they were illegal and void, and had advised the President not to approve them. This being his opinion, he could not, of course, take the other side of the question. Therefore he had declined to argue it here. He had left if to be argued by those who believe in the doctrine. He had given notice to Gen. Grant, in consequence of which other counsel had been employed.

THE STRUGGLE THROUGH WHICH WE ARE PASSING.

The two most violent political convulsions of modern times furnish continual types of comparison with the fearful struggle through which this nation is passing. In the English and in the French revolution every act of violence was done professedly in the name of public rights and for the advancement of human liberty. All things were claimed to be done in the name of the people and on behalf of the people, and for a time the darkest acts of tyranny and violence were made to wear the semblance of popular right. When arbitrary power is exerted by a king or a despot, the world at once discerns the personal motive, and is not deceived. When it is exerted by the so-called representatives of the people, the motive of immediate self-aggrandizement is not so readily discovered, and hence the people are duped longer and will bear more. Charles lost his head for acts which were mild compared with the usurpations of Parliament, and to no tyrant, ancient or modern, can be imputed crimes to be named with the bloody deeds of the representatives of France. No constitutional chief magistrate could with impunity perpetrate the outrages which we are daily witnessing at the hands of the miscalled representatives of the American nation. In the case of the English revolution, successive aggressions upon the constitution were made under color of restriction upon the unjust prerogations of the king.—In America the constitution is hourly assaulted under a claim that the exercise of this heretofore acknowledged power of the President is dangerous to liberty. In the case of England, the Parliament misused its power by perpetuating its sessions when it had ceased to reflect the will of the nation.—The Thirty-ninth Congress, so soon as a majority of its members had been elected, in advance of their flagitious usurpations, decreed that the Fortieth should meet by anticipation nine months before its regular period of assembling, thus virtually, practically making its one session continuous for four years. The revolutionary Parliament of England earned the name of Rump and the present truncated American assemblage deseves no better title.

Sustained by the power of Parliament, Cromwell hectored the judges of England and threatened them with imprisonment if they dared to issue the writ of habeas corpus. The tools of the American Congress have, in like manner, trampled upon the privileges of freemen. The executive and judicial authority was brought to the feet of the legislative, and thenceforth the will of Parliament was the only power in Great Britain. So in France, the first efforts of revolutionary power were used to break down the checks of the national organization in the National Assembly by reducing the three orders into one. The judiciary never had an independent existence under the monarchy, and therefore the next stride, the overthrow and decapitation of Louis, on the 21st of January, 1763, left the convention the cruel and atrocious tyrants of France. In both countries the stages of the process were substantially the same, and the results identical. The overthrow of law and the extinguishment of right were conducted in the name of liberty, and apparently on behalf of the people, until liberty had become only a remembrance, and the people were the slaves of a body of wild and bloody fanatics.—The thoughtful man who considered the general features of those two great movements will be struck with the identity of the governing principle in those national tragedies with that which is operating the darkening future on our own country. The different orders in the National Assembly of America have not been abrogated, but the establishment of the joint committee of fifteen on reconstruction, actuated all the while by the potent machinery of a congressional caucus, has tended to the same practical issue. The Executive has been stripped, one by one, of his just privileges; perpetual war has been made upon his constitutional authority, and although he has once escaped impeachment, it is by no means certain that the effort to displace him will not be renewed. The last assault upon the guardians of the constitution, the Supreme Court of the United States, by the bill which passed the House of Representatives on Monday last, has no specific parallel in France, because there the judicial was but an incident to the kingly power, while under our form of government it is an independent, co-ordinate department. It is a body to which tyranny and oppression, practical and direct, upon the body of the people cannot be imputed. All its traditions are on the side of freedom, and hence it is expedient to undermine its power rather than attempt its overthrow. It now stands the last barrier between the revolutionists of America and their absolute will. Remove that, and there no longer remains any greater obstacle to their purposes than stood in the way of the French convention after the 21st of January, 1793, for the check of the presidential veto if overthrown by two-thirds majority of a truncated Congress, and if the voice of the Supreme Court is silenced, there no longer remains a lawful voice to remind us of the sanctions of a broken constitution and a disrupted Union.—Of the immediate object to be accomplished, the instant prize to be secured by the overthrow of the court, of the pressing necessity to do their work speedily, and of the hollowness of the device by which it is to be effected, we may have some further words to say. —Balt. Sun.

SHOCKING OUTRAGE BY NEGROES IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—About eleven o'clock on Friday night, five negroes came to the store of Mr. M. A. Muldrow, in Darlington district, and rapping up the clerk, Mr. R. Sugs, asked admittance. Mr. Sugs enquired who they were, and receiving the response that they were friends come to trade with him, opened the door of the store. Four negroes, armed with double-barreled shot guns, entered, and placing their weapons in the corner of the room, commenced examining goods, remarking that they were in the employ of the railroad, had just been paid off, and desired to make purchases to the extent of ten dollars each. About fifty dollars worth of goods were selected, when one of the number asked Mr. Sugs if he could change a treasury note of the denomination of one hundred dollars. The wife of Mr. Sugs, who was in an adjoining room, heard the remark, and her suspicions being excited by it, she went out of the back door to the house of a gentleman named Wyndham, and requested him to come to the store and in case any trouble should occur to render Mr. Sugs what assistance he could. Mr. Wyndham complied taking a gun with him, and as he reached the store he heard the report of a shot. He threw open the door and was immediately fired upon five times by the negroes. He returned the fire, when they rushed upon him and seized his gun, and a scuffle ensued, during which he managed to effect his escape, and, repairing to Mr. Muldrow's house, reported the condition of affairs. As soon as the latter could dress and arm himself, he ran to the store, accompanied by Mr. Wyndham. There all was quiet, and entering they found the shelves of the store completely stripped, the money desk robbed, and the clerk, Mr. Sugs, lying dead on the floor, a load of buck-shot having passed through his head. From this melancholly scene Messrs. Muldrow and Wyndham went to the house of the latter, where they found Mr. Wyndham's father-in-law had been dangerously shot twice in the head, and his wife in three different places on the person by the same party of negroes.—Charleston Courier.

THE ENORMOUS WHEAT CROP OF CALIFORNIA.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says: Count California in your next estimates as the first wheat growing State in the Union. The California wheat crop of 1867 did not fall much short of 20,000 bushels, if, indeed, it did not exceed that amount, and, as it realized fully $2.50 in gold per bushel, it follows that we are to-day $50,000,000 better off for it. Add to that the value of four million gallons of wine and brandy, and an almost incalculable fruit crop, and you have some idea of the money realized by the farmers of California this year.

According to the report of the assessor Los Angelos country last year produced 1,000,000 gallons of wine and 100,000 of brandy; and this year 180,000 bushels of corn, 150,000 of barley, and 13,000 of wheat. The annual crop of oranges is worth $527,000; of walnuts, $102,000, and of lemons, $85,000. The average value of production per acre cultivated is given at $127. The Los Angelos News says: "By the passage of a law abolishing the fence system, and the building of a railroad from this city to some point on the bay of San Pedro, the present figures will be more than quadrupled." And Los Angoles is but a third-rate county in population and comparative development of her recources. The figures, it must be remembered, are to be understood as coin, not greenbacks. Stimulated by this great success, our farmers are taking hold with renewed energy, since this present rainy season has set in, and it is now certain in 1868 we shall have 1,000,000 acres in wheat alone. Give the average of thirty bushels per acre—the estimate is a low one for California—and we shall have 30,000,000 bushels of wheat. This beats Wisconsin, and places California in the front rank of wheat-producing States.

Our corn crop is of small account, and the barley and oats crops will, perhaps, be less than in 1867, but the aggregate, you can see, will be enormous. And yet California is but in her teens, not half nor quarter developed. What a future she has before her! With all her drawbacks—and they are many—she is the the State to live in after all.

THE LATEST MONSTROSITY.

On Thursday of last week, the infamous Reconstruction Committee, of which Thad. Stevens is chairman, resolved to report to the House, a bill to deprive the Supreme Court of the United States, of appellate jurisdiction in all cases arising under the Reconstruction Acts. It seems as if the very Fiend himself possessed the souls of the Radical leaders in Congress. Figures of speech fall so far short of that justice which the heart burns to administer to the wretches who are now engaged in destroying our government, that we shall not attempt to employ them. The fiercest curse, the bitterest invective, the most terrible anathema, that could be uttered by human lips, could not damn the destroyers of Civil Liberty to that nethermost hell of infamy, to which they will one day be consigned by the deliberate judgment of the American people. We shall quietly wait for that day of judgment, which we know is swiftly coming, meanwhile contenting ourself with asking the simple question, What is to be thought of a political party which is afraid to permit its legislation to be tested by the Supreme Court of the United States, notwithstanding the fact that a majority of that Court is composed of appointees of that party's own President, Abraham Lincoln?

THE WORKING-MEN AGAINST THE RECONSTRUCTION DESPOTISM.

The laboring classes suffer more than any other from the destructive policy of the Radical conspirators at Washington. Financial matters are unsettled, and, consequently, labor is unemployed. Hence, the working-men of the country are everywhere arraying themselves in opposition to Radicalism. Last fall, the "Working-men's" candidate for Congress, in Cincinnati, was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Gov. Hayes. That candidate was Gen. Samuel F. Carey, a "Republican," but opposed to the ultra measures of the Radical party. He was elected by a large majority over Smith, his Radical opponent. Gen. Carey is one of the ablest men in Congress, and truly represents, in that body, the interests of the working classes. The other day, when the last of the brood of "Reconstruction" buzzards was hatched in Congress, Gen. Carey arose and propounded the following pertinent questions to Bingham, the parent of the foul bird:

"First—If General Grant shall neglect or refuse to execute the provisions of this law, or if in its execution he shall act in an oppressive and cruel manner, to what tribunal will he be amenable for his nonfeasance or malfeasance? Second—As by the terms of the bill the President cannot interfere, can the General be tried by court martial; and if so, by whose orders, and who shall constitute the court? Third—Not being a civil officer, can he be impeached; and if so, by whom, and before what tribunal? Fourth—If he cannot be arraigned by any earthly tribunal, is he not made an absolute despot?

These were centre shots, bomb-shells exploded right in the stomach of Bingham's logic, and they were not responded to. The enemy's battery was completely silenced. Let the working-men of America commit to memory these questions of their representative in Congress, and demand that the Radicals answer them.

An election for Governor and other State officers, will be held in New Hampshire, on the tenth of March next. Both parties are exerting their utmost strength to win the fight. Last year the Radical candidate for Governor was elected by 3,100 majority. Since then the Democrats have made important accessions, and it looks now as though the contest would be a very close one, and sanguine people even hope for a Democratic victory. One thing is certain, the Radicals are bound to lose heavily, and another thing is equally certain, they cannot afford to lose a single vote. They have nominated Gen. Grant for President in New Hampshire, and they are testing his strength in this election. If they fail to gain on last year's vote, they will see the hand-writing on the wall. Then, neither Grant, nor saltpetre, can save them.

The fellows who stick to the Radical party, after all its shifting and changing during the past three years, may well pray, "Thad! Save us, for we believe in thy Reconstruction, as it was, as it is, and as it shall be, world without end;" and when they go to bed at night, they can say,

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray old Thad my creed to keep,
If it should change before I wake,
Let me know early for Stevens' sake.

A great change is going on in the minds of the people. The outrageous course of Congress is opening the eyes of honest "Republicans" everywhere.

THE NEXT STATE ELECTION.

On the second Tuesday of October next, the voters of Pennsylvania will choose "one person to fill the office of Auditor General" and "one person to fill the office of Surveyor General." We look to the coming Democratic State Convention for the very best nomination for these offices that can be made by the party. Pennsylvania, as usual, will be the battle ground for the Presidency, and the Democracy must go into the fight with honest, fearless and trustworthy leaders. There appears to be no lack of material from which to choose our standard-bearers, and we, therefore, have no apprehensions on this score. For the office of Auditor General, Gen. W. W. H. Davis, of Bucks, Hon. Daniel M. Fox, of Philadelphia, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer of Pittsburg, Col. Jacob Zeigler, of Butler, and Charles E. Boyle, Esq., of Fayette, have been mentioned. Either of these gentlemen would make a most excellent candidate, and we could support any of them most heartily. For Surveyor General, John M. Cooper, Esq., of the Chambersburg Valley Spirit, Maj. Jacob Cresswell, of Huntingdon county, and Col. W. B. Sipes, of Philadelphia, are prominent names. Mr. Cooper is a veteran in the service of Democracy, and the nomination could not be conferred upon a worthier man, or a sounder Democrat. Maj. Cresswell is, also, a favorite with the Democracy of this region and deservedly so. Col. Sipes is a gallant soldier who passed with honor and distinction through the late war, and if Philadelphia is to furnish the nominee, he is our man. It is, perhaps, needless to add that Mr. Cooper is our first choice for this nomination. It is now eleven years since this Congressional district, (or, we may say, the Southern tier of counties east of the Alleghenies), has had a representative upon the State ticket, and whilst we are willing to do without such a representative eleven years longer, if the good of the Democracy demand it, we think we can, with propriety, urge the claim of our section. But whatever may be the course of the Convention in regard to nominations, let it be careful to select the strongest men. The last Convention displayed eminent wisdom in its selection of a candidate. Any other man than Judge Sharswood would have received just enough votes to have been defeated. His high character as a man and his eminent ability as a jurist, saved us the State. If the coming Convention but act as wisely as that of last year, all will be well.

A RADICAL ORGAN PROTESTS.

The New York Evening Post is widely known as one of the ablest Radical sheets in the United States. It is edited by William Cullen Bryant, the poet, and has always been regarded by "Republicans" as one of their principal organs. But Bryant cannot bear the injustice that is being done to the trampled and ruined people of the South. His poet heart recoils from the monstrous shame that his party are bringing upon his country. His noble nature revolts at the despotism that is being erected in ten States of the Union. In a recent number of the Post, the author of "Thanatopsis" thus unburdens his soul in regard to "Reconstruction:"

"Congress got into a quarrel with the President; it took counsel of its resentment, not its wisdom; more onerous conditions were imposed; until the legislative folly culminated in MILITARY DESPOTISM which has produced no solitary good effect, which has widened the chasm between the races at the South, and which has at length run to such an extravagance that unless arrested it will provoke a general and most disastrous reaction. It is an extremity into which we shall not follow any leaders; but on the other hand, we shall continue to protest against it until the voice of reason shall once more make itself heard amid the noisy clamors of Washington."

A gentleman who has been an ardent "Republican," writes as follows:

"The military Re-Re-construction bill, giving Grant despotic power over the entire South, passed the House today. God help us all! It is pitiful that not one Republican in the House but Samuel F. Carey, of Ohio, was to be found standing up for Civil Liberty. I believe that this bill dooms the Radical party forever. There seems to be such an irresistible spell about unrestrained power, that its possessor, believing it to be eternal, rushes on from one extreme to another, until the judgment, sharp and sudden, comes at the very moment when he deems himself most secure. This whole system of organized outrage upon Civil Liberty, called "Reconstruction," will melt away under the hot breath of an indignant people, like the tracery of the frost beneath the rays of the morning sun."

"Under what flag will the Senator march?" asked Nye of Doolittle, when the latter was making his great speech the other day. "Under the flag of thirty-seven States," was the triumphant answer.

HARRISBURG.

Gayety at the State Capital; John Hickman on the Rampage; The word 'White' to be stricken from the Constitution; Hon. J. S. Black; Shugert Contested Election Case; Committee on Railroads in the House, etc., etc.

Correspondence of the Bedford Gazette.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25, 1868.

MR. EDITOR:—Our city has been quite gay and likewise festive, for some days past. Good use was made of the snow by those who love to sit behind a spanking team, in a cosy "cutter," with ample furs, whilst they keep time with their thoughts to the tintinabulation of the "merry, merry bells," and the ice was made the scene of all those varied and intricate and interesting performances which distinguish the skating-park of the last half of the nineteenth century. The State Treasurer elect, a few nights since, gave a dinner to his friends in the Legislature, which was kept up until the "wee sma' hours ayont the twal'",—a merry-making which was, doubtless, indulged in by some people in view of the money-making which the new official expects to begin about May next. By the way it is said that the State Treasurer's office pays the incumbent about $200,000 per annum, though the salary is only $3,000. This proves that "some things can be done as well as others," as Sam Patch used to say. My own notion is that some things might be done better than others.

J. Hickman, of Chester, who has more brains than two thirds of the remainder of the Radical side of the House, introduced a joint resolution the other day, which proposes to amend the Constitution of the State so as to restrict the pay of Members and Senators to $700 per year; and to exempt them from arrest in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace and from being questioned in any other place for words spoken in speech or debate in either House. This amendment is coupled with another which strikes the word White from the Constitution, and confers the right of Suffrage upon all negroes able to read that instrument. This latter amendment is as follows:

"In elections by the citizens, every freeman of the age of twenty-one years, having resided in this State one year, and in the election district where he offers to vote ten days immediately preceding such elections, having paid a State or county tax within two years, assessed at least ten days before the election, and able to read this Constitution, shall enjoy the rights of an elector; but a citizen of the United States who has previously been a qualified voter of this State, and removed therefrom and returned, and who shall have resided in the election district and paid taxes as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote after residing in the State six months: Provided, that freemen, citizens of the United States, between the ages of 21 and 22 years, having resided in the State one year and in the election district ten days as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote, although they shall not have paid taxes."

I have very grave doubts whether this amendment would receive the endorsement of a majority of the voters of Pennsylvania. In fact, I am not so sure that it can pass the present Legislature, for, whilst the Radical Pecksniffs of that body are great on forcing Negro Supremacy upon the Southern States, they are too cowardly to ask their constituents to confer Political Equality upon the blacks of their own State. But, nous verrons.

Among the distinguished strangers who visited our place during the present week, was Ex-Chief Justice J. S. Black, now conceded, on all sides, to be the greatest lawyer on this side of the Atlantic. No sooner was it made known that Judge Black had arrived in town, than he was surrounded by friends, anxious to take by the hand the renowned Pennsylvanian and the honored defender of civil liberty. I can tell you, if I had my way about it, Judge Black would be the next President of the United States as sure as he lived to see the sun go down on the fourth of March, 1869.

The Shugert-Robison contested election case in the Senate, drags its slow length along. The principal witness for the contestant, thus far, is a fellow who swears that he was bribed. If the Committee believe the testimony of such a self-convicted scamp, they must be credulous, indeed. There was enough fraud on the part of the Radicals, if properly shown up, to insure Robison's exclusion by a larger majority than that certified against him by the Return Judges. I understand that some of the counties in the district, have been thoroughly sifted, but that others have been neglected. For instance, Blair, I am told, has not been attended to at all. The Democrats can carry the State Senate, this year, beyond doubt, if Mr. Shugert be saved. There is yet time to work up the counties that have been neglected. Let this be done by all means.

Your friends Scull, Roddy, Baer, Findlay and Hay, of Somerset, have been here for some time, looking after the interests of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad. A strong pressure is being brought to bear upon both Houses in favor of the restoration of the Pittsburg and Connellsville charter, but it is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad company will resist the passage of any bill looking to this end. I think the House will vote to restore the P. & C. charter, but the Senate looks doubtful.

Speaker Davis, of the House, has appointed nine free railroad men on the Committee on Railroads, eleven anti-free-railroad men, and one doubtful as to the railroad question. Thus it will be seen that the Committee is decidedly against the "free-railroaders." Mr. Davis declares that he made no pledges to the nine "bolters" which he had not made before he was nominated. This puts Mr. Richards and the rest of the "nine" in a rather awkward predicament. If Mr. Davis made them no additional pledges, how came they to vote for him? As to the probabilities concerning the passage of a free-railroad law, I think some sort of such a law will be passed. But it will contain a proviso which will enable the large corporations now in existence to control every company that may undertake to organize under it. In other words, it will be a nullity.

I find some of our old friends and acquaintance, in office here. Ex-Senator Barnes, of your district, is Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate; J. T. Keagy, of your place, is a transcribing clerk in the House; Samuel Ake, of your county, is a clerk in the Surveyor General's office; and J. W. Curry, formerly of your county, now of Altoona, is an Assistant Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. So, you see, your district is pretty fully represented at Harrisburg. LEX.

THE RE-SUPLEMENTAL-SUPLEMENTARY-RE-RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

The following is the latest amendment to the "Reconstruction" Acts, which has passed the lower house of Congress, and is now under consideration by the Senate, which body it will also pass:

Be it enacted, &c., That in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Florida and Arkansas, there are no civil State governments republican in form, and that the so-called civil governments in said States respectively shall not be recognized as valid or legal or State governments either by the executive or judicial power or authority of the United States.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That for the speedy enforcement of the act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2d, 1867, and the several acts supplementary thereto, the General of the Army of the United States is hereby authorized and required to enjoin by special orders upon all officers in command within the several military departments within the several States, the performance of all acts authorized, to remove at his discretion, by his order, from command, any or all of said commanders, and detail other officers of the United States army, not below the rank of colonel, to perform all the duties and exercise all the powers authorized by said several acts, to the end that the people of said several States may speedily reorganize civil governments, republican in form in said several States, and be restored to political power in the Union.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the General of the army may remove any or all civil officers now acting under the several provisional governments within said several disorganized States and appoint others to discharge the duties pertaining to their respective offices, and may do any and all acts which by said several laws above mentioned are authorized to be done by the several commanders of the military departments within said States; and so much of said acts or of any act as authorizes the President to detail the military commanders of said military departments, or to remove any officers who may be detailed as herein provided, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That it shall be unlawful for the President of the United States to order any part of the army or navy of the United States to assist, by force of arms, the authority of either of said provisional governments in said disorganized States, to oppose or obstruct the authority of the United States, as provided in this act and the acts to which this is supplementary.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That any interference by any person with intent to prevent by force the execution of the orders of the General of the Army, made in pursuance of this act, and of acts aforesaid, or any refusal, or wilful neglect, of any person to issue any order or do any act required by this act, or other of the acts to which this act is additional and supplementary, with intent to defeat or delay the due execution of this act, or of either of the acts to which this is supplementary, shall be held to be a high misdemeanor, and the party guilty thereof shall, upon conviction, be fined not exceeding $5,000, and imprisonment not exceeding two years.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That so much of all acts and parts of acts as conflict or are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, is hereby repealed.

Man Killed.—A middle-aged man was instantly killed, on Saturday afternoon last, a short distance above Tyrone, by being struck by the engine of the Mail Train East. His skull was broken, and he was otherwise injured. He lived in Tyrone, and, in company with his wife, to whom he had been married only four or five days, started to walk to Fostoria. They had stepped from the north to the south track to get out of the way of a freight train. The woman left the road entirely, while the man stood so close to the track that the engine struck him just above the eye, carrying off a portion of his skull and killing him instantly. Altoona Tribune.

Counterfeit.—We warn our readers against taking finely executed notes of the denomination of ten dollars on the First National Bank of Philadelphia. None but experts can distinguish them from the genuine issue, and numbers of them have been taken by bankers in Philadelphia. It will be well for our store-keepers and business men generally to keep a sharp look out for them.

A Suggestion.—If any person wants to know how a horse feels on a bitter morning when a frozen bit is placed in his mouth, let them first place a piece of frozen iron upon their own tongues. Having done this let the coachman or driver see that the bit is warmed before being fixed in position. The horse will look, though he cannot say, 'thank you.'

The Bankrupt Law.—Now that this act is going into operation, it is best that every one interested in bankruptcy should have a good copy of the law; and we can think of no better way of obtaining one than by sending 20 cents to Frank Moore, Publisher, Bible House, New York, for a copy of his "People's Edition." It is sent free by mail for 20 cents.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.

In the U. S. Senate, yesterday, the House Reconstruction bill was announced and laid over. On motion of Mr. Harlan, a bill was passed appropriating $15,000 for the destitute in the District of Columbia. The case of Senator Thomas was discussed. Mr. Doolittle took the floor, and argued that any one of known disloyalty would not seek admission, as they knew that if they came and committed perjury, they would be expelled at once; that Mr. Thomas' letter of resignation and giving $100 to his son were consistent with innocence, the former merely proving that he held wrong opinions in common with many others, a fatal heresy, that cost vast expenditure of blood and treasure, but the holding of which did not necessarily constitute treason, that being a man of high character, willing to come and take the oath, there was no more reason for excluding him than Wendell Philips, for his utterances, or Horace Greeley, whose articles in the "Tribune," declaring that if a majority of a State desired to secede they had a right to do it, were read by Robert Toombs before the Georgia Secession Convention, thereby carrying the Convention, with the Tribune in his hand. When Albert G. Brown withdrew from the Senate to join the rebellion, Edwin M. Stanton met him outside of the door, and urged him to go on in his course, wishing him "God speed," and saying he was right.

In the House, A bill was passed providing for the holding of a Circuit Court in Erie, Penna. Mr. Van Wyck, of N. Y., from the Retrenchment Committee, presented a report in regard to the Gettysburg Lottery Scheme. Mr. Blaine, of Me., introduced a bill which was referred, relating to the taxing of National bank shares. Mr. Julian addressed the House in explanation and advocacy of the bill, dwelling at considerable length upon the impolicy of allowing five millions of acres of land to be held in the grasp of corporations and speculators, while thirteen-fourteenths of the people of the South are landless, and denouncing those corporations for the aid which they gave to the rebellion. A debate here followed between Mr. Chandler and Julian.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.

In the U. S. Senate, yesterday, the President's message, declaring that the Equal Rights bill had failed to become a law, was referred. The Senate insisted on its amendments to the Deficency Appropriation bill. A bill was reported and passed, authorizing the Comptroller of the Currency to replace destroyed and mutilated National bank notes. The joint resolution for Southern relief was passed. The Reconstruction bill was debated.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Chandler, of New York, the Commerce Committee were directed to inquire into the means of preventing such evils as those of the cholera ship Leibnitz in future. The Naval Appropriation bill was reported and recommitted. It appropriates over $18,000,000. The bill to prevent payment of Southern war claims was considered. The Conference Committee on the Cotton bill reported that they had agreed to the Senate amendment exempting foreign cotton from duty. The House refused to concur in the amendment, the yeas being 97 and the nays 79, and a new conference was ordered. The death of Representative Hise, of Kentucky, was announced, and tne House adjourned.

Josephine.—So far as the intrinsic interest of the facts is concerned upon which Miss Muhlbach bases her story, this latest production of her pen may be said to rival any of its predecessors. Nowhere in all history is there a tragedy so sweet and sad as that of Josephine—woman, wife, empress, and worse than widowed. The skillful romancer has gathered the facts from all known sources, and woven them into a compact and gleaming web. Miss Muhlbach is accused of high coloring; but what tints can be too bright or too dark by contrast for the light and shade of such a marvelously chequered career as Josephine's? This tale is well translated, and the graceful, characteristic style of the author duly preserved. In the art of gently beguiling the reader from page to page by the charm of style, Miss Muhlbach has no superior living; though in this instance, the dramatic arrangement of the stirring incidents is so ingenious and captivating that a more barren style would still have left the work higly interesting. We are glad to see the "Empress Josephine" worthily illustrated. There can be no dispute about the claims of such lovely designs as the vignette, Marie Antoinette, the night before her execution, the beautiful Hortense meditating in a garden, the divorced Empress, and Josephine's stolen interview with the little Napoleon. Gaston Fay is the author of these exquisite sketches, and unless we mistake, he has the stuff in him for the making of a first-class reputation.

"Demorest's Young America" for February.—We are glad to see this beautiful Monthly. The children are jubilant over its arrival, and anticipate its coming with persistent questioning, making its advent a relief and pleasure. It is quite unique in its way—fresh and spirited in tone, full of illustrations, and not at all "goody" and mawkish. Long life to it, and many subscribers, who, by the way, get a handsome premium, in addition, for the subscription price of $1,50. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 473 Broadway, N. Y.

The Nursery for February.—We have received this excellent little monthly, which is full of illustrations, and the little ones are wild with gladness over its contents. It should be in every house where there are children. Price $1.50 a year in advance. Address John L. Shorey, 13 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

Dark Hours.—To every man there are many dark hours, when he feels inclined to abandon his best enterprise—hours when his heart's dearest hopes appear delusive—hours when he feels unequal to the burden, when all his aspirations seem worthless. Let no one think that he alone has dark hours. They are the common lot of humanity. They are the touchstone to try whether we are current coin or not.

Address to the Nervous and Debilitated whose sufferings have been protracted from hideous causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits or melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu, established upward of 18 years, prepared by

To Owners of Horses.—Thousands of horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 20 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, used it for years, and said it is far superior to any other he has tried. Recollect, Dr Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment is put up in pint bottles. Take no other. Sold by the Druggists and Saddlers. Depot, 56 Cortlandt Street, New York. jan10w4

Facts.

That we have unequalled facilities for conducting business to the advantage both of ourselves and patrons, we submit the following TRUTHS—well known as such to the entire business community.

1st. We have abundant cash capital, therefore—
2d. We are enabled to Buy for Cash exclusively, consequently at the lowest possible prices, with the markets of the entire world to select from.
3d. In this particular WE HAVE ADVANTAGES shared by no other house in our business.
4th. We sell for cash exclusively—therefore at the lowest possible prices—having no losses incurred by selling on credit, to provide for.
5th. We have a business experience of a quarter of a century, having been longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.
6th. Our business is thoroughly systematized, the result of long experience, which has taught us what the wants of the public are, and how best to meet them.
7th. We employ the best talent in all departments, our garments are therefore unsurpassed in style, fit and workmanship.
8th. Our business is large and constantly, increasing, enabling us to keep at all times the largest, best assorted, and most complete stock of MEN'S, YOUTHS', and BOYS' CLOTHING in Philadelphia, to which large daily additions are made of fresh goods, replacing those sold.
9th. For reasons already enumerated we can, and do sell clothing in every respect superior—surpassed by none, equalled by few—at prices guaranteed in all cases lower than the the lowest elsewhere, or the sale cancelled and money refunded.
10th. If buyers should for any cause become dissatisfied after a purchase is made, if reported within a reasonable time, we pledge ourselves, by exchange, refunding of money, or otherwise, to give full satisfaction in every case, and request that all such may be reported to us for adjustment.

Card.—Our stock of Fall and Winter Clothing is full and complete, and selling rapidly, but is as rapidly replenished each day with fresh and desirable styles of new goods, purchased recently, for cash, at great sacrifices, enabling us to sell at prices lower than have been known for years. Congratulating our patrons upon the decline of prices, which enables us to offer superior garments at such low rates, we request the favor of a call.

Proofs of the Superiority of

THE AMERICAN

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

This country has reason to be proud of this splendid specimen of American operative genius and enterprise. That it will work a revolution in the watch manufacturing of the world no one can doubt who examines the operations of the Waltham establishment, for it turns out watch movements at just about one-half the cost of imported movements—beside the uniform reliability of the machine-made watches must give them a great advantage over all others wherever known. A poor time-piece of the machine make will be as rare in the future as a good one of hand make has been heretofore for machinery is arbitrary in its performance, and can make a perfect article just as easy as one that is worthless. It will be a cause of congratulation if this highly useful American Enterprise shall have the effect of driving out of market the thousands of trashy foreign articles miscalled timekeepers, by furnishing so excellent and economical a substitute.—N. Y. Times.

"We have had one of the works of this Company in a case for some considerable time, and comparing them with former first-class works of different manufacture possessed by us, they have established in our opinion their superiority over any ever introduced for correctness as time pieces."—The World.

"We notice with regret (writing of the Paris Exposition) the absence of specimens of American manufacture, which, although only comparatively of recent birth among us, is already producing results of the most satisfactory character. The watches manufactured by the Waltham Company are certainly, so far as strength, durability, and excellence as time-keepers are concerned, as good as anything produced by the French or Swiss manufacturers."—N. Y. Herald.

"The beauty, the precision, the greater cheapness, the uniform excellence of a watch constructed by machinery so exquisite that the mere spectacle of its operation is poetic, gradually give the American Watches a public preference which will not be deceived."—Harpers' Weekly.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING!

The Democrats of Bedford county, and all who support the Constitution against the attacks of Radical aggression, are requested to assemble in MASS MEETING, at the Court House, on Monday evening, Feb. 10, (Court Week) for the purpose of expressing their disapprobation of the extraordinary, unconstitutional and despotic course of Congress in attempting to establish Negro Supremacy in Ten States of this Union at the point of the bayonet, and electing a Delegate to the Democratic State Convention which is to assemble at Harrisburg on the fourth of March next.

All who desire a change in the law-making power of the country, no matter to what party they have heretofore belonged, are respectfully invited to attend and participate in the proceedings of the meeting.

GEO. MARDORFF,
Ch'n. Dem. Co. Com.
W. C. SCHAEFFER, Sec'y.

FIXED UP."—It will be remembered that nine of the Radical members of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, refused to support the Radical candidate for Speaker, but finally "caved," and did in the end exactly, what they swore they never would do, voted for and elected the aforesaid Davis. We find in the Fulton Republican, of last week, a letter written from Harrisburg (by a Radical pen, of course) which throws a faint light upon this subject. It appears that there was some "fixing up" done. In fact we know that some "fixing up" was intended to be done in this town of Bedford, on the very night that the news was received of Davis' election. The Radical politicians of this place met in secret caucus, and determined to instruct Mr. Richards to vote for Davis without pledges. Only two of them refused to go into this business of secretly putting the thumb-screw to the recalcitrant representative. But Richards saved them all trouble. He had already played retromingent and the instructions of the secret caucus were unnecessary. But turn we to the correspondence of the Fulton Republican:

"The 'bolters' or 'immortal nine,' as they are called, who refused to go into caucus, yielded, after having a written pledge from the committee of conference, appointed by the friends of Mr. Davis, to confer with a similar committee of 'The Nine,' that the Committee on Railroads should be composed of a decided majority of unqualified, outspoken friends of a 'Free Railroad law.' Believing that these pledges might be carried out in good faith, and in order to preserve harmony in the party, 'The Nine' concluded to overlook, for the present, the base and corrupt means made use of by unscrupulous demagogues and political gamblers outside of the Legislature, in the interest of the 'ring' that has been running this machine. These outsiders openly and boldly proclaimed that they had secured a majority of the Republican members, (whether by arguments heard, or arguments seen, they have not told us, but the people will judge for themselves,) and that they would 'force the bolters in.' The 'ring master' was to 'fix' up the press for that purpose. The Pittsburg Commercial, the Pittsburg Gazette, the State Guard and Forney's Press were the papers that were to be 'fixed' up against the 'Nine.' I suppose every body will understand what is meant by being 'fixed up.' Whether or not the said papers were so 'fixed' is not known, but true it is, they immediately set up a howl against the 'bolters,' and my attention was called, to-day, to the last edition of the Herald & Whig, of Somerset Co., which I will not say was 'fixed up' by the 'ring master' for the occasion, but it howls most lustily at the heels of your worthy Representative from Fulton Co., (Mr. Richards,) for doing less than their own member, (Mr. Weller,) openly declared he would do, that is, that under no circumstances would he (Mr. Weller,) vote for Davis for Speaker—that if it became necessary to defeat Mr. Davis for Speaker, he would vote for a good Free Railroad Democrat, and that the people in Somerset county would sustain him in so doing."—

LECTURE.—The first lecture of the series for the benefit of the Bedford Cemetery, will be delivered, in the Court House, on next Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th, by the Rev. A. J. Barrow. We hope the people of our borough and neighborhood, will attend this lecture, as, aside from the interesting subject which will be discussed, it should be borne in mind, that the proceeds of the lecture are to be devoted to a useful and laudable purpose. Let there be a good turn-out to this, and to the subsequent lectures to be given for the benefit of the Cemetery Association.

JUBILEE, &c.—There will be Jubilee Services, appropriate to the observance of the 350th anniversary of the Reformation, held in the Lutheran church, of this place, beginning on Thursday evening, the 30th inst., and continuing during each evening of the week. The Lord's Supper will be administered in the same church, on the Sunday morning following. A Sunday School Jubilee will be held on Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

DEATH OF REV. AMOS SMITH.—A truly pious and worthy minister of Christ, has gone to his great reward. Rev. Amos Smith, for many years well known, and greatly esteemed, as a minister of the M. E. Church, died, at his residence, in McConnellsburg, Fulton county, on Monday, Jan. 20th. Rev. Mr. Smith was the father of H. G. Smith, Esq., editor of the Lancaster Intelligencer, and of Geo. A. Smith and Amos Smith, Esqs., of the McConnellsburg bar.

LEAP YEAR.—It is said that during leap year more bachelors commit matrimony than in the other three, and for this several reasons are assigned. We notice that since the first of January the marriage lists in our exchanges have largely increased. May all our bachelor friends who tie themselves to crinoline "for better or for worse," be able to exclaim, in Shaksperian language:

——"She is mine own:
And I as rich in having such a jewel,
As twenty seas, if all their sands were pearl,
The waters nectar, and the rocks pure gold."

CHEAPEST AND BEST.—If you want to buy clothing in Philadelphia, go to Bennett's Tower Hall, 518 Market street, half way between fifth and sixth. We testify from personal knowledge when we say that the best and cheapest clothing in the city, is to be found at this place. Besides, Bennett and Co. are gentlemen, in every sense of the term, and their word is as good as their bond. Call and see them.

Some writer has said:

"We to the wight when first he feels
The slippery skates beneath his heels;
Who, tremblingly, tries the dangerous play,
And scratches out a first essay;
Up fly his feet he feels with dread
The ice has cracked and cracked his head!
A double damage, thus we see,
Misfortunes march in company;
Stars twinkle round his aching eyes,
Amazed, he sees new suns arise;
To him celestial wonders grow,
Without the aid of telescope,
With shuffling haste he seeks the shore,
And vows at least to skate no more."

ECONOMY.—The father of an interesting family residing near Detroit, not long since stopped the only newspaper which he had ever allowed himself or family, and solely on the ground that he could not afford the expense. This man chews up fourteen dollars and sixty cents' worth of tobacco every year.

A FARMER wrote as follows to a distinguished scientific agriculturist, to whom he felt under obligations for introducing a variety of swine: "Respected Sir—I went yesterday to the cattle show. I found several pigs of your species. There was a great variety of hogs, and I was astonished at not seeing you there.

PROMINENT CHARACTERISTICS.
I.—They are Instructive.
"As purely literary works, these historical romances possess a high degree of merit. They read like genuine histories.—Catholic World.
"They are correct descriptions of the countries and the people described."—Herald.
II.—They are Entertaining.
"We regard these books as among the best and most entertaining novels of the day."—Springfield Republican.
"The reader is at once fascinated and held spellbound until the volume is completed."—Free Press.
"There is no dull chapter in it."—Utica Herald.
III.—They are mirrors of the Times.
"No one can pursue them without conceding the author's great skill in grasping and delineating the characters which figure conspicuously in them.
"The study which enables the author to delineate so accurately the emotions and incentives to action which moved men and women of a past age must be close and untiring, and Louisa Muhlbach shows in all of her works a perfection which carries the reader into the very presence of the characters represented."—Syracuse Journal.
IV.—They are Historically Correct.
"Historically accurate, and as entertaining as many of the volumes of Sir Walter Scott."—Providence Herald.
"Louisa Muhlbach must have carefully and diligently studied the secret histories of the times and countries of which she writes, and her task is done well and effectively."—Worcester Spy.
"No Historical Novelist has labored so faithfully and successfully to reproduce a complete picture of past times and events."—Utica Herald.
V.—They are Original.
"It has agreeably surprised readers to find a new writer with such constructive genius and knowledge of character as Louisa Muhlbach possesses."—Public Ledger.
"Each succeeding novel adds to Mrs. Mundt's reputation as a writer of historic fiction."—N. Y. Times.
VI.—They are full of Imagination.
"She is not only the skilful joiner, but a neat-handed artizan."—Christian Witness.
"There is seldom any straining after effect, but it is really wonderful how Madame Mundt manages to sustain and increase the interest to the end."—City Item.
"The word-painting of the authoress is much more effective than the best efforts of the engraver."—Illinois State Register.
VII.—They Contain Anecdotes of Courts.
"Scottish history offered no fresher and more romantic material to the magic working hand of Sir Walter Scott than she finds in the annals of the German courts."—Evening Gazette
"There are not to be found anywhere in human annals, unused, such magnificent, such superabundant materials for romance, as clog the chronicles of the Prussian and Austrian courts of the 18th century. By their dress, their manners, their modes of thought, their language, they are almost as much separated from us as if they had lived one thousand years ago."—Observer.
VIII.—They tell about Emperors, Kings and Queens.
"We learn from her not only how Frederick William and Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, Voltaire, Rousseau, Baron Trenck, the Empress Catherine, walked and talked in their grand roles, but how they powdered their, hair, flirted, and took tea."—Register.
"The choice of her subjects exhibits her genius She takes the name of Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, for example, and upon the background of facts which the chronicles of the periods affords, she embroiders the bright and sombre colors, the light and shades of her fiction, with the skill of a consummate artist."—The Eagle.
IX.—The Style is Interesting.
"The style of this writer for purity, perspicuity, and elegance, is something greatly to be commended. It is free from imitations, mannerisms, and tricks of every kind."—The Argus.
"The translations do justice to the vivid, piquant style of the original; and the story is full of movement and crowded with instructive and entertaining incident."—The Chicago Post.
"The interest of the book does not depend upon its characters nor its incidents, nor yet on its charming style, but on its general harmony of composition."—Day Book.
X.—Everybody is Reading them.
"Our people seem to have stopped reading French novels, and English works are complained of as dull. Miss Muhlbach precisely supplies the public want.
"The novels of Clara Mundt are being read by every one."—Times.
"Muhlbach's novels have a world-wide reputation, and are read with avidity, as fast as issued from the press."—Springfield Republican.
"They are winning a wide and deserved popularity in this country."—State Journal.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all oiher points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.
For sale wholesale and retail by
E. M. BRUCE,
18 N. Seventh Street, Philadelphia.
☞ Send for descriptive circular and price list.
The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON. Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class.—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cotttge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

525 MILES OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
RUNNING WEST FROM OMAHA
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.
This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans' Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.
The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty-mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair-shops, stations, and all necessary rolling stock and other equipments.
The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.
The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.
The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.
EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.
At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.
It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
are offered for the present at 90 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay
SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,
or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Bedford by RUPP & SHANNON, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK, No. 7 Nassau st., CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, No. 51, Wall st., JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 33 Wall st., and by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anaemonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county.
Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

Just Published, in a Sealed Envelope.—Price six cents.
A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, resulting from self-Indulgence or Sexual extravagance, &c.—By DR. CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book, &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of Self-Abuse may be radicallycured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BOON TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market reports, cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
